Review: Tenga Egg

The Tenga Egg is a toy for penis owners. They are designed to give the user a different sensation when masturbating. They are a great way of exploring using a sex toy without spending a lot of money.

Packaging

The Tenga egg come is a plastic egg shaped case that has a plastic security seal. The seal is not the easiest to open for those with dexterity issues due to there not been a pull tab style opening. Once opened the Sleeve has a plastic insert to help it keep its' shape. The insert has a sachet of lube inside for the user to apply to the inside of the egg when using it.

The Product

The Tenga egg contains a masturbation sleeve that has a textured inner to give the user a different sensation when masturbating. There are over 25 different textures/patterns to choose from. The user applies the lube to the Inside of the egg then stretches the egg over the penis. The sleeve is easy to apply to the penis but due to the delicateness of the material it should not be pulled too hard. The sleeve can then be twisted, stroked, and squeezed to give alternative sensations and the inner texture will give added stimulation.

The sleeve stretches up to 12 inches so will fit most penises. It is a product that can be used for solo play or with a partner. They are marketed as a onetime use but if the sleeve is cleaned and looked after it is possible to get another use out of it.

The Tenga egg can also make a great gift or valentine's day or a cheeky stocking filler.

The Pros

The price point means that is great for those who want to try a sex toy for the first time or introduce them into a relationship and not spend a lot of money.

The Cons

The product is designed for single use only which means it is not environmentally friendly.

Occupation Therapists View

The sleeve can help those who have issues with grip and dexterity to masturbate or pleasure their partner.

About us

'Undressing Disability' is a global campaign which aims to raise standards in sexual health and sexual awareness for disabled people. Issues around sexuality and sexual frustration are frequently raised by disabled people who feel that they have less opportunity and ability to explore their sexuality than others. Through a lack of understanding, education and a general lack of services, disabled people frequently cannot access the support that would make it possible for them to make the sorts of choices about their lifestyles that most of us take for granted. As part of our campaign we run the Love Lounge, an online forum providing free advice on all things sex, love and disability. We also have free downloadable resources. As a user-led charity, our aim is to change the way people view disability, which often involves removing the 'fear factor' that so often surrounds the subject. We support businesses to be more inclusive by providing disability awareness training, British Sign Language workshops and accessibility audits, amongst other things.
